

Dispute Seen Between Reds

Could Have An Impact On Berlin, Laos Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U. S. officials were reported convinced today that a serious dispute has broken out again between the leaders of the two great Communist powers, Russia and Red China.

The argument could have a profound impact on Soviet handling of East-West crisis issues, particularly Berlin and Laos.

Western authorities are trying to get at the real facts of the controversy and thus establish a basis for judging what its effect on future Sino-Soviet policies may be.

The most authentic evidence of the quarrel known to U. S. State Department experts is the fact that the Soviet leadership sent a high-level delegation to Ulan Bator last week to represent Moscow at the 14th anniversary of the Mongolian Communist party. But Soviet Premier Khrushchev, at the same time, virtually ignored the far more important 40th anniversary of the Chinese Communist party.

This snub, U. S. experts say, is unmistakable proof of very severe differences between Moscow and Peking. The cause of the current argument is not known, but it is assumed to be along the familiar lines of recent years—the Red Chinese favoring tough, expansionist policies for international Communism, with a risk of nuclear war; the Russians favoring a more cautious policy under the label of "peaceful co-existence."

Top Kennedy administration officials were deeply interested in an article published in the Times in London last Sunday. This article by Isaac Deutscher, a long-time student of Soviet affairs, reported that Khrushchev had circled (Please turn to page 8, column 6)

Shipping Operation Perks Up

Passenger Ships Ready for Sea After Strike Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — Shipping operations began to perk up today after a slow holiday start in compliance with a federal court order halting the 18-day national maritime strike.

Waterfront activity increased in many ports on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.

Officers and crewmen worked to ready passenger ships, freighters and tankers for sailing.

Chandlers, fuel oil and food suppliers, customs inspectors, longshoremen, truckmen, tugboat operators and immigration officers also pitched in to bring the dead ships back to life.

The manual labor and the paper work began shortly after the court order was issued here Monday night under the Taft-Hartley Act.

There was no sign of defiance of the court by any of the five striking maritime unions.

The order was directed also at other unions, whose members were not on strike but nevertheless were not working, and at several employer associations.

Deck officers, radio officers and unlicensed deck and engine room crewmen were ready Tuesday to sail many ships on the East Coast. But the ships generally lacked engineer officers, who are members of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (MEBA).

MEBA spokesmen said the union did not have a sufficient office staff available on the Independence Day holiday to alert the engineers who were scattered over a wide area.

Members of the American Merchant Marine Institute, a large shipowner group which has not yet reached contract terms with the engineers, said they believed the MEBA was deliberately engaging in "delaying tactics." They said the union wants as few uncontracted ships as possible to sail before the court order comes up again for argument in further Taft-Hartley proceedings on Friday.

The MEBA and two other unions plan to have their lawyers appear here Friday before U. S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, who issued the temporary restraint against the strike, and argue against issuance of a permanent injunction.

Two Boys Bitten On Hands By Dog

Pettis County Sheriff Emmett W. Fairfax was called to 3600 South Kentucky Tuesday afternoon after a dog had bitten two young boys in that neighborhood.

The boys, Robert Dawson, 4, and Dennis Dawson, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Howard, were both bitten on the right hand. The bite was just severe enough to break the skin. Sheriff Fairfax reported. Robert was bitten Tuesday morning and Dennis later the same day.

The dog, described by Howard as a mixed breed, reportedly belongs to a neighbor. Howard said the dog had shown no previous tendencies to be vicious. He said he called Sheriff Fairfax only after the dog bit Dennis. He said up to that time he was of the opinion Robert might have tormented the animal resulting in his being bitten.

Fairfax turned the dog over to Sedalia Poundmaster Marshall Bryan, who will hold the animal for 10 days to see if it has rabies.

SUMMER WHEAT HARVEST—The harvesting period has just started, and barring inclement weather should last approximately two weeks. Wheat is probably the main cash crop in this area, and the output from the Sedalia territory is expected to be at least 100,000 bushels. The average production per acre cannot be determined yet, but at least a 25-30 bushels per acre crop is expected. This photograph was taken at the farm of Jack E. Alfrey, Route 1, Sedalia. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Kennedy Back Into Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy flew back today from a holiday weekend at his Cape Cod home to pick up on a full-time basis the labors he couldn't completely drop even for the Fourth of July.

The presidential jet landed at Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland at 10:22 a.m. EDT after a one-hour flight from Otis Air Force Base.

Mrs. Kennedy stayed behind, not planning to return to Washington until next week when she and the President will entertain President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan during his state visit. The children, 3-year-old Caroline and 7-month-old John, may remain still longer.

The family plans suggested Kennedy may quit Washington's heat again next weekend for a seashore break.

Say 12 Killed In Algerian Riots Tuesday

Demonstrations Of Workers Loyalty During a Strike

ALGIERS (AP)—Moslem demonstrators and riot forces clashed across Algeria today and at least 12 persons were killed as Moslem workers staged a 24-hour general strike.

The strikers were demonstrating loyalty to the regime of rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas and protesting President Charles de Gaulle's threat to partition the North African territory.

As the demonstrations swelled, it appeared certain the death toll would rise to dim the prospect of negotiations between the rebels and the French, which a French spokesman said had been tentatively scheduled to resume next Monday.

Two thousand Moslems clashed with police at Telergma, in eastern Algeria, site of the biggest French air base in Algeria. At Miliana, in the central part of the country, some 300 young men, women and children, led by rebel guerrillas in uniform, rushed riot forces who opened fire on them. Five persons, including a French policeman, were reported killed in the two clashes.

One Moslem was reported killed at Castiglione, about 30 miles west of Algiers, when several hundred armed with clubs and knives tried to charge riot police and troops.

Shortly before noon the Algiers casbah, which had been ominously silent throughout the morning, began to boil with unrest. The twisting alleys rang with cries of "Vive Ferhat Abbas" and the high-pitched "yu-yu-yu" cry of Moslem women urging their men on.

Troops and police in Algiers charged a Moslem mob at the fringes of the Bab-el-Oued worker district where some 300 demonstrators massed, waving green and white rebel flags. Police used their clubs and the Moslems fought back with fists and stones.

Major cities were all but paralyzed economically by the Moslem walkout.

Record Holiday Toll For 4-Day Weekend

On Berlin Situation

Expect New Moves On Soviet Threats

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's return to Washington today was expected to bring a speed-up in U. S. planning of new moves to counter Soviet threats against West Berlin.

Possible steps include sending one or more Army divisions to reinforce the five divisions of U. S. troops already serving with NATO forces in Germany. Some sea and air forces may be deployed. A wide range of other actions is under consideration.

Development of detailed plans was ordered by the President last week before he left for his July 4 holiday at Hyannis Port, Mass. One of the tasks awaiting him on his return to the capital was the review of the progress of this work. Some plans are expected to be ready for consideration by the National Security Council.

Officials said that the United States probably will send a note to Moscow by the end of the week reasserting allied rights to maintain a military garrison in West Berlin and to keep open supply routes to the city across East German territory, France, Britain and West Germany are due to send similar messages.

The Western notes, informants said, will add up to a new round of warnings to Soviet Premier Khrushchev against underestimating allied determination to defend West Berlin and its access routes.

U. S. officials are uncertain whether the developing conflict over Berlin will lead later this year to a serious danger of nuclear war. The more widely held view appears to be that Khrushchev would prefer to negotiate rather than to force a military showdown.

The Soviet premier wants the United States, Britain and France to pull out of West Berlin and permit it to become a "free city."

under some kind of international guarantee. The Western powers repeatedly have rejected his proposals on the ground that any change in the status of Berlin would be a step in the direction of eventual Communist domination.

Khrushchev has declared he will sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany near the end of the year. In his view the treaty would give East Germany control of the Berlin supply lines.

Despite the tension which has been growing over this issue since Kennedy and Khrushchev stated their conflicting positions to each other at Vienna a month ago, the two men so far have maintained a relatively cordial tone in their relationships.

The latest instance of their mutual politeness came in connection with the Fourth of July celebration. Khrushchev sent Kennedy a message congratulating the United States on its independence anniversary and expressing hope for "joint efforts aimed at a speedy solution of long outstanding problems."

House Burns; Had Figured In Theft Case

The house on the Bob Sevier farm, near Houston, that figured in the recovery of a Singer sewing machine in late June, burned to the ground early Wednesday morning.

The Pettis County Fire Department and the Houston Fire Department both answered the call, about 2:40 a.m. On arrival of the fire-fighting units the building was completely ablaze. A smoke house was also on fire. Both buildings were a total loss. The house was a two-story, six-room affair.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Deputy Jack Coutts investigated the fire, as it was in this house that the sewing machine, one of 102 stolen from a Moberly warehouse last year, was recovered in late June.

At the time the machine was found, the house was vacant, and the machine was found on inspection of the house just after the occupants had moved out. The house was rented to Lee Williams, according to Fairfax.

Some articles of clothing were also left in the house, Fairfax said, and these clothes were removed from the house Tuesday by Mrs. R. A. Chandler.

Fairfax said that Williams was wanted in Kansas City and in Pettis County, in connection with the theft of the machines. He added that Williams was apprehended in southern Missouri early Wednesday morning, and that he would be taken to Kansas City, or to Sedalia, depending on a decision still to be made.

Accidents Of All Types To New Peak

High 1956 Figure Of 884 Deaths For Weekend Shattered

By The Associated Press

Traffic	509
Boating	63
Drowning	204
Miscellaneous	148
Total	924

Traffic deaths climbed to record heights for a summer holiday during the long Independence Day weekend.

The tally today also showed that the over-all accident toll, including a heavy loss of life on water, reached an all-time mark for any holiday period.

Late reports boosted the motor vehicle fatality total beyond the 500 mark. It passed the previous high of 491 set during a four-day observance of Independence Day in 1950. That had been the top mark for any summer holiday period. And it went far beyond the National Safety Council's advance estimate that 450 Americans might die in traffic accidents during the 102-hour period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Tuesday.

The previous record for deaths in accidents of various kinds, including traffic, had been established in the four-day celebration of Christmas in 1956. It was 884. During that same period traffic deaths soared to 706, a standing record for any holiday period.

The death rate on the highways slackened late Tuesday. Council officials said the homeward bound traffic was the heaviest in history for the final hours of any holiday. They said the fatality rate dropped from an hourly average of between five and six to about two to three.

The council, in a pre-holiday statement, had estimated a traffic death toll of 450.

This year's Fourth of July holiday traffic count compared to 462 for the recent four-day Memorial Day period, a record for that holiday. In last year's three-day observance of Independence Day traffic deaths totaled 442.

Three deaths in fireworks were reported during the count of violent accident deaths from 6 p.m. last Friday to midnight Tuesday, a period of 102 hours. That was the largest total since four died in 1954.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of accidents in a non-holiday period of 102 hours, from 6 p.m. Friday June 16 to midnight Tuesday June 20. The count showed: 362 traffic; 33 boating; 80 drownings; 99 miscellaneous, a total of 574.

Man Sought By Officers Is Captured

Missouri Highway Patrol troopers with the aid of bloodhounds and a patrol plane from Jefferson City captured a man sought in connection with an accident on Highway 40, at the intersection with Route J in Saline County, just after noon Wednesday.

The man, Frederick Vincent Ormond, 36, said by the patrol to be an escapee from the Marshalltown, Iowa, county jail, was captured a few miles northeast of the location of the accident.

Troop C headquarters in Lee's Summit said the accident occurred about 6:30 a.m. Wednesday. Just after the accident a truck driver said he saw a subject enter the woods and disappear. He notified the Highway Patrol and the search began.

The plane and dogs were called in. A spokesman said the dogs played the leading part in the capture, however, the plane undoubtedly helped by keeping the man under cover, and preventing him from moving around.

Ormond, according to the patrol, is wanted in Iowa for stealing a car in Lamonia July 3. Prior to Wednesday, he had been seen in Cameron, Mo., July 4, when he failed to pay for some gasoline at a service station.

The car he was apparently driving Wednesday, when the accident occurred, was stolen in St. Louis July 4.

Centennial Funds Go to Park Board

The sum of $16,021.04 left over from the Centennial Fund which was presented to the City Council by Don S. Lamm, general chairman of the Centennial committee, has been turned over to the Sedalia Park Board and will be used to construct additional park facilities.

The tennis courts will be lighted for night play but the baseball fields at Centennial and Hubbard Parks will not be lighted at this time.

The Sedalia Park Board has expressed its appreciation to those who helped raise the funds and to the City Council for its expression of confidence in the board by turning the money over to it.

A Possible Move

Auto Workers May Attempt To Regain Jobs In Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Will there be a strike in the auto industry this year?

Probably not for a straight cents-per-hour wage increase.

But very possibly if the United Auto Workers Union becomes convinced it can make existing jobs more secure and get back to work thousands of its laid off members by hitting the bricks.

These are conclusions drawn from frank, personal off-the-record discussions with the top negotiators of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler and their counterparts in the United Auto Workers' hierarchy.

Neither side gives the appearance it is spoiling for a fight. Peaceful settlement hopes were expressed by everybody on both sides as bargainers sat down last week to begin negotiating new pacts to replace current three-year ones expiring Aug. 31. Talks resume Thursday.

Inventories are high, unemployment widespread.

General Motors had 32,249 hourly rated workers laid off June 1 and drawing supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB). Ford had 9,233 idle at the same time, and on June 20 Chrysler had 24,454 unemployed. Unsold new cars in dealers' hands July 1 were estimated at 920,000.

Top UAW men said their rank and file members are particularly unhappy when the auto companies schedule overtime work for a reduced force, rather than recalling laid off employees or creating new jobs.

Overtime normally is the heaviest in the early weeks of new model production, when employment also is highest. But some plants work considerable overtime throughout the year.

The union's GM committee seemed most concerned about the overtime issue.

Both Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., and Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, have agreed as members of the President's Committee on Labor-Management Policies that unemployment approximating seven percent of the nation's labor force is "intolerable."

But neither one has come up with a specific cure for the situation. L. L. Colbert, Chrysler president, and other industry spokesmen have insisted the only sure way to increase automotive jobs is through increased sales; that jobs aren't created around the bargaining table.

7-hour Search Is Required To Find Youngster

BURLINGAME, Kan. (AP)—It required a seven hour search Tuesday by state troopers, the Osage County sheriff's patrol, volunteers and two National Guard helicopters to find Timothy Charles Williams.

Timothy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams of Topeka, wandered off from the family at his grandparents farm northeast of Burlingame around 12:30 p.m.

At 7:38 p.m., a searcher ran across Timothy in woods a half mile from the farm, unperturbed and still intent on roaming.

berg, put both the auto industry and union on notice in a Detroit speech May 29 that the government would view a strike this year as "intolerable." He added that one would be "the height of economic folly" with the country struggling to overcome effects of a recession and increase its gross production.

Depending on the point of view, Goldberg's remarks have been taken two ways. Some took them as an invitation to the union to appeal for Washington intervention to help it with what it might not otherwise gain. Still others expressed the opinion they undercut the union's strength at the bargaining table, blunting in advance a strike threat.

Goldberg insisted he didn't undercut either side and, in the first place, he didn't anticipate a strike. He pointed out there hadn't been a truly major walkout since the UAW struck Chrysler for 104 days in 1950-51 to gain trust fund guaranteed pensions.

Reuther said on the first day of 1961 bargaining: "We hope and will do everything possible to reach agreement at the bargaining table without assistance or interference from Washington. We always hope to reach agreement without a strike."

Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, however, expressed concern a day later for those he called detractors who hold that "the only way to avoid costly strikes and inflationary settlements is for the government to set the terms."

Family Spot Emptied With Man's Arrest

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—He was on the FBI's most wanted list, for a cruel murder. But to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bloom the fugitive captured in their home "was just like one of the family. Trusted like a brother."

Still shocked that the odd-jobs man they took to their hearts was not the person he represented himself to be, the Blooms nevertheless promised Tuesday to aid him.

The man they knew as Bryan Brenton was, in fact, Kenneth Holbeck Sharp, 29, sought since 1952 on a charge that he shot and killed a 75-year-old service station attendant during a holdup in Chicago.

When the FBI took Sharp into custody Monday, Bloom said, he was babysitting for the three Bloom children, boys aged 2, 4 and 8. He was just like one of the family. The kids miss him already.

The FBI said Sharp, considered possibly deranged, had been in Philadelphia for five years. He worked for three years as a pin-boy in a bowling alley Bloom manages.

Laid off when the alley was converted to automatic pinsetters, Sharp went to work in a service station Bloom operated. "I trusted him like a brother," Bloom said. "Some weekends would have $400 at the station. We never missed a thing."

The station closed six months ago and Sharp moved in with the Blooms while working at odd jobs.

"The kids loved him immediately. He would take them swimming on hot days. He would go with us to the shore," and, said Mrs. Bloom, he "would do the Friday shopping for me."

Bloom said agents came to the bowling alley Monday and asked him to accompany them to the home.

"They asked who he was and

Castro Says US Starving Cuban People

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro claims the United States is trying to force Cubans to go hungry by embargoing food exports to Cuba.

In a nationwide television-radio address Tuesday night, the prime minister accused the United States again of economic aggression and said the Soviet Union had offered Cuba 10,000 tons of lard to make up for a U.S. shipment of 12 carloads that was stopped last week.

(Castro did not explain the circumstances of the embargo on the lard shipment. A Florida court ordered the shipment seized to help satisfy a $429,000 bill the Cuban government tourist agency owes a Miami advertising agency.)

Castro called the lard seizure the latest act of "imperialist aggression" and announced Cubans would have to cut down on fats until production can replace U.S. imports. Cuba has depended on the United States for most of its lard, but Castro said Cuba would buy no more U.S. lard, imports of which, he said, had run to $20 million a year.

The prime minister announced that Cubans, who normally consume about 40 1/2 pounds of fats per person annually, would be rationed one pound of oil and one pound of lard a month.

Castro also complained about the seizure of a Cuban twin-engine passenger airplane in Miami Monday. The plane, hijacked in flight by some of its passengers, was seized when it landed to be applied toward the Miami advertising firm's judgment. Three Cuban crop-dusting planes that landed in the Florida keys also were seized for the same reason.

Castro termed Adlai Stevenson's recent tour of South America as President Kennedy's special envoy a vain effort to build up an aggressive anti-Cuban front.

Slayer of Wife And Children To Have Operation

MONTREAL (AP) — Abel Vosburgh, awaiting trial on charges of murdering his wife and 11 children in a fire, will be operated on Saturday for cancer of the left lung.

The 63-year-old laborer was the only survivor of a fire Dec. 29 that leveled his small frame house in Noyan, a farming-resort community 35 miles south of Montreal. Vosburgh was arrested early in January after questioning and after an inquest was charged with murder.

Traffic Death Total Reaches 16 On Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Missouri traffic fatality toll climbed to 16 just an hour before the counting period in the four-day Fourth of July holiday ended.

Mrs. Doris Lee Cornett, 25, and her son, Kenneth Russell Cornett, one, were killed at 11 p.m. in a one car accident 8 miles south of Cameron on U. S. Highway 69.

Mrs. Cornett's husband, Colin, 27, was driving the vehicle when it apparently went out of control and struck a bridge abutment.

Cornett escaped with bruises and lacerations. Two other Cornett children, Virginia and Robert, both 5 years of age, were taken to Mercy Hospital in Kansas City for treatment.

The Cornetts were en route to their home in Kansas City when the accident occurred.

Tractor Mishap Proves Fatal To Three Children

WHITESIDE, Mo. (AP)—Three children burned to death Tuesday when a farm tractor they were riding on rolled over, the gasoline tank exploded and they were covered with flaming gas.

The victims were Tommy Ellis, 11, and his sister Connie, 13, and Joan Galloway, 10, of Old Monroe, Mo. Tommy was driving the tractor when it hit a log on a hill and toppled over.

The accident occurred on the farm of the Ellis children's stepfather, Robert Finley Jr., five miles east of Whiteside. Joan, the daughter of Carlyle Galloway Jr., was visiting the other children over the Fourth of July holiday. Lincoln County Sheriff Irl Elliott said the Ellis children were pinned under the tractor.

He said Joan was thrown clear and tried to run for safety but collapsed 367 feet from the tractor.

Male Bear Cub Is Too Playful; Given Zoo Home

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—A friend gave John Fitch an orphaned male bear cub the other day.

Fitch, 37, who had been hunting for bear all week with nary a sight of one, was delighted. He brought the cub home in a box.

The 30-pound animal took over the garage and the backyard, stripped Fitch's apricot tree, tried to climb the fig tree but gave up because it was too slippery and harassed the family's dog and pet turtle.

When he didn't have anything else to do, the cub, named Bigfoot by the Fitches, nibbled daintily on flowers.

That was too much for Fitch. Today the cub is nibbling bars at the San Diego zoo, and Fitch is repairing his backyard.

Crosses a Reminder Of Traffic Deaths

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Small, white crosses by the hundreds dotted roads leading into Paris, a reminder of the nation's highway toll.

Boy Scouts throughout the long Fourth of July weekend marked each traffic death nationally by putting up two crosses.

As the toll surged upward late Tuesday, the scouts made an extra 150 crosses and prepared to assemble others to keep an accurate count on highway deaths.

War Horrors Pointed Out By General

MANILA (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur told the Philippine Congress today scientific advancement in the development of military weapons "has destroyed the possibility of war being a medium for the practical settlement of international differences."

"Global war has become a Frankenstein to destroy both sides," said the 81-year-old leader of World War II and the Korean War.

"No longer is it a weapon of adventure—the short cut to international power. If you lose, you are annihilated. If you win, you stand only to lose.

"No longer does it possess even the chance of the winner of a duel—it contains now only the germs of double suicide."

MacArthur's appearance before the cheering Congress was the high spot of the third day of return to the Philippines after 15 years. Filipino enthusiasm for their World War II liberator continued without letup.

The old soldier once more in effect criticized former President Harry Truman and other political leaders during the Korean War for not letting him carry the United Nations offensive to Red Chinese territory.

"With victory in our grasp," said MacArthur, "and without the use of the atom bomb—which we needed no more than against Japan—we failed to see it through.

"Had we done so we would have destroyed Red China's capability of waging modern war for generations to come. Our failure to win that war was a major disaster for the free world.

"Its fatal consequences are now increasingly being felt in the military rise of Red China into a mighty colossus which threatens all of Asia and bids fair to emerge as the balance of military power in the world. This would jeopardize freedom on all continents."

Before his speech to Congress, MacArthur lunched with more than 2,500 of his Filipino World War II comrades and received another affectionate outpouring from the men who had served in the battered, tattered units on Corregidor and Bataan and those who had taken to the hills to fight as guerrillas against the Japanese.

Brisk Contest Shaping Up For Leadership of Church

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A brisk, two-way contest shaped up today for the presidency of the newly constituted United Church of Christ, its highest administrative office.

Rank-and-file forces put the Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, of Philadelphia, into the race, challenging a nominating committee's choice, the Rev. Dr. Ben M. Herberster, of Norwood, Ohio.

The balloting comes this afternoon, a day after the constitution of the new 2-million-member denomination was declared in effect.

It unites the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the first merger in the country of denominations of different national origins and ecclesiastical structure.

Election of the constitution climaxed 21 years of preliminary steps.

Delegates moved quickly to elect Maine Supreme Court Judge Donald W. Webber as moderator, the church's top titular officer, who serves for two years. The conflict came on naming the more powerful, continuing executive.

Both presidential candidates were drawn from the E. and R. wing, a church that Dr. Wagner, 61, has headed for eight years. But a nominating committee bypassed him Tuesday in naming Dr. Herberster, a parish pastor.

From the floor, the Rev. Thomas D. Garner, of Nazareth, Pa., rose to nominate Dr. Wagner, declaring that the new church needs "the benefit of his continued dynamic leadership and invaluable experience."

"What is probably most important, he is an established and respected figure in ecumenical circles," the Rev. Mr. Garner added, noting Dr. Wagner's leading role in the National and World Councils of Churches.

Supporters of Dr. Herberster also rallied to the microphones. He is "a man of God whose strong faith will sustain and carry us forward in the future as it has in the past," said the Rev. Dr. Vere Loper, of Berkeley, Calif.

He said Dr. Herberster, as co-chairman of an executive council, charted the church merger, had "saved our church" by reconciling disputing factions at one point when negotiations faltered.

The contest reflected, in the background, a question of whether the past leadership of either of the two churches should be continued for the united body.

Dr. Wagner and the Rev. Dr. Fred Hoskins, of New York, the Congregational Christian chief executive, had served as co-presidents of the new church in its formative years.

However, Dr. Hoskins removed himself from consideration, announcing last month he had accepted a professorship at Chicago Theological Seminary, starting next Jan. 1.

The nominating committee, headed by Dr. Arthur D. Gray, head of Talladega College, Ala., said its choice had been a "difficult one" in picking Dr. Herberster. "We have considered all aspects of the situation," he said.

The passing over of Dr. Wagner was "not an adverse judgment on the past," said the Rev. Dr. Fred Meek, Boston. However, he supported Dr. Herberster, saying he "knows when to lead and when to follow."

Theodore Schwalm, of Lancaster, Pa., backing Dr. Wagner, said he had the "background and experience" to lead the new church. "His statute is second to none, not only in the denomination but in the ecumenical world."

The Rev. Samuel Schmiedecke, of St. Paul, declared that Dr.

Jeans Aren't Tight Enough for Youths

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Night after night some of the boys at Kentucky Village asked their supervisor for needle and thread.

The supervisor was puzzled why so many boys had rips in the leg seams of their blue jeans. Then he learned the reason: The jeans simply were not tight enough to conform to teenage standards of proper dress.

Now the boys have lost interest in mending. Officials at the home for delinquents have ordered the jeans sent to the girls' sewing class for modernizing alterations.

Wagner has "the most intimate knowledge" and "comprehensive grasp" of the new church's problems, and would provide "a continuity of leadership and a stabilizing influence."

Besides electing Judge Webber as moderator, the meeting also named the Rev. Dr. Stuart L. Anderson, of Berkeley, Calif., and Mrs. Alfred C. Bartholomew, of Lancaster, Pa., as assistant moderators.

Nominated without opposition and thus assured of election were the Rev. Fred S. Buschmeyer, of Washington, D.C., as church secretary, and Charles H. Lockyear, of St. Louis, as treasurer.

The new church's constitution assures the autonomy of local churches, a long-honored tradition of Congregational Christians, and provides a pyramid-type government for regional and national agencies, an E. and R. characteristic.

Await Son's Arrival To Hold Service

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP)—The family of author Ernest Hemingway today awaited the arrival of his son Patrick from Africa before holding simple graveside services at the public cemetery here.

The family said Patrick had telegraphed he expected to arrive sometime today. On that basis the funeral was tentatively set for 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

The Rev. Robert J. Waldmann, who will officiate at the service, said Hemingway was entitled to burial rites of the Catholic Church "although he was not as good a member as some others."

Hemingway was converted to the Catholic faith after his second marriage.

"As far as I know, he did not leave or reject the church officially," Father Waldmann said. The priest said the church did not intend to pass judgment on Hemingway's membership. He said the simple rites were "due to the family's request which we are following."

The priest also said the church accepted the ruling of authorities that Hemingway died Sunday of a "self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head." Officials made no determination of whether the shooting was accidental or otherwise.

Seek Swarthy Slayer Who Grabbed Girl

MOAB, Utah (AP)—A swarthy bandit flagged down a car of tourists from Rockville, Conn., on a desert road Tuesday night, shot, robbed and left two people for dead and fled with a teen-age girl.

Charles Boothroyd, 65, survived. He was reported in serious condition with two bullet wounds in the face.

Jeanette Sullivan, 40, was killed. The new "Miss Germany of 1961" is, of all things, an engineering student. The long-stemmed lovely is Marlene Schmidt, 24, who shows both her beauty and engineering skills at the light control board of a resort park in Baden-Baden, West Germany, where the contest was held.

Officers set up road blocks in southeastern Utah and southwestern Colorado, and began a systematic search of roads in the isolated region.

Sheriff's officers pieced together this story:

The bandit, described as stocky and dark, had stopped on a little used jeep road near Dead Horse Point State Park, about 28 miles southwest of Moab. Boothroyd and the Sullivan came along and pulled to a stop when the man flagged them.

Boothroyd got out of his car and walked back. The man asked for money and Boothroyd refused.

The man reached into his car, pulled out a rifle, and began shooting.

Boothroyd was hit in the face. He threw up his hands and was shot again.

The assailant then shot Mrs. Sullivan in the back of the head and took Boothroyd's and Mrs. Sullivan's wallets.

The terrified girl apparently tried to drive off but the victim's vehicle was found a short distance away. It looked as if it had been run down and rammed by another car.

Leonard Brown, an oil drilling operator, said he was about two

Distant Step Between Right Wing and the Conservatives

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Staff Writer

It takes one distant step, according to students of America's right wing, to cross the chasm which separates rock-ribbed conservatives like Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, from blood-red demagogues like Robert Welch of the Birch Society.

Yale sociologist L. M. Lipset says in his view the difference is not so much one of degree as of ideology.

"The extremist," says Lipset, "questions the patriotism of any one whose actions fall within the scope of what he considers the road toward collectivism."

"The more moderate conservative, on the other hand, may feel just as strongly that a certain act would be a step along the same road, but he takes the view the man who did it simply is in error, or perhaps even foolish or naive—but not a traitor."

In his book, "The Politician," which described former Presidents Eisenhower and Roosevelt plus Gen. George C. Marshall and others as Communists or traitors; and the activist publication "Right" calls upon its readers to "fearlessly proclaim to the world that liberalism is treason."

Other militants, such as Texas broadcaster and former FBI agent Dan Smoot, often take the less extreme position of labeling persons as "Communist dupes" rather than out and out traitors.

"Practically all influential liberals in America," says Smoot, "want the same kind of society that Communists are after—an assertion practically all influential liberals would reject."

Smoot contends that "under liberal leadership our national effort to resist the spread of communism" is "self contradictory," besides being "aimless and confused."

Part of this confusion results, according to militant rightists, from their opponents' refusal to agree that communism's greatest threat is through internal conspiracy, not external conquests.

Welch laments: "Although our danger remains almost entirely internal, from Communist influences right in our midst and treason right in our government, the American people are being persuaded that our danger is from the outside, from Russian military superiority."

Right-wing activists frequently feel federal programs to fight communism abroad—foreign aid, NATO-type treaties and the like—are a sorry waste of time, effort and tax money.

Or worse. Former ambassador Spruille Braden said in a speech to the American Coalition of Patriotic Societies: "Truly, foreign aid is a treacherous if not a treasonous adventure."

But should the national effort to thwart communism involve attempts to negotiate with the Soviets, whether at Geneva or the United Nations or the summit, some rightists regard the moves not only as foolhardy (as others may also feel) but as downright insane.

Even to suppose we could negotiate with Reds, says Dr. Frederick Charles Schwarz, director of the Christian Anti-Communist crusade, shows "a failure to understand communism so completely that it approaches mental illness."

Schwarz, an energetic, Australian-born physician, psychiatrist and Baptist lay preacher, travels the country putting on weeklong "anti-communism schools."

The schools use the shock approach in unveiling "right here before your own eyes" the "demoniac brutality" of communism and its steady erosion of "the moral fiber of America."

To do this he puts together a smooth presentation of film strips, tape recordings and speeches by himself and members of his faculty, plus such outside recruits as former FBI undercover agent Herbert Philbrick.

Schwarz sounds the keynote for the course: "Communism is a disease that will probably kill more Americans in the next 10 years than cancer, tuberculosis and heart disease."

"We learn that the Communists plan to put to death 50 million people, more or less," in the United States," he said. He himself, he says, is marked for liquidation.

"Anyone who is not startled and profoundly alarmed by these figures," he declares, "is evidently free from the responsibilities of rational comprehension."

Schwarz suggests organizing cells, one of several well-tested Communist methods right-wing militants have borrowed to turn against their foes.

Others, as outlined in the Birch Society's blue book, include front groups, pressure tactics, heckling speakers with "mean and dirty" questions, midnight telephone harassment, letter-writing campaigns, infiltrating the Parent-Teachers Association and other groups, creating a demand for approved authors, commentators, books and magazines.

Except for top leaders, membership rolls are kept secret in the Birch Society (lest Birchers "be subject to persecution and attack").

and author of most of the tracts, the society also has a panel of endorsers in various states, and a council whose main function seems to be to pick a successor to the founder "if and when" as he puts it "an accident, 'suicide' or anything sufficiently fatal is arranged for me by Communists."

The council includes former ambassador Spruille Braden, former Notre Dame law dean Clarence Manion, former Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews and other conservatives. Although Welch is the sole boss tives including three former presidents of the National Association of Manufacturers, a Roman Catholic editor-priest and several physicians.

For instance, Welch and at least five other Birch leaders are sponsors of the Manion Forum; Manion is a Birch director; and Schwarz is a Manion Forum contributor.

From one another they gain support in efforts to impeach the chief justice (Welch), pull out of the U.N. (Manion), fight progressive education (Smoot), stop foreign aid (Braden), and oppose the Peace Corps (Daughters of the American Revolution, by a vote of 2,082 to 1).

Anything that isn't fundamentally American—which in the view of some on the outermost tier of the right wing includes abstract art, jazz music and water fluoridation—is suspected of being of Communist origin.

EXPERIENCE

The Small Business Review urges the President: "Do not put anybody in an official position unless his parents were naturalized United States citizens before he was born, and not less than second generation if possible."

Another group, the American Action Council, recommends a law restricting public office to American-born Christians.

Sociologist Lipset feels "their effect on the body politic as a whole is next to nil." But the tendency of militants to regard anyone who advocates social legislation or any other left of center program as an unwitting (or witting) tool of the Communists does, Lipset believes, have some consequences.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Wed., July 3, 1961 5

"In a medium-sized town where the typical rightist exercises considerable influence," he said, "any person who advocates what he conceives to be socialist ideas—a teacher, librarian, city councilman—often is subjected to harassment which at times is pretty severe."

Laos Princes Beserk Man May Schedule Opens Fire Another Meet On Officers

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, military leader of the pro-Western Laotian government, said today steps are under way to set up another meeting of the nation's three political princes to map out a coalition regime for the divided kingdom.

Phoumi, who returned from the United States Tuesday, expressed confidence a national union regime will be formed by the pro-Western, neutralist and Communist factions.

"There should be no difficulty," he told reporters. It was all news-men could do to keep straight faces.

Phoumi and Premier Prince Boun Oum flew to the royal capital of Luang Prabang to report to King Savang Vathana on the recent talks in Zurich with Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist leader, and Prince Souphanouvong, chief of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

Phoumi said he was very satisfied with his Washington trip because it gave him a chance to explain "all we did at Zurich, Geneva and Vientiane."

Souphanouvong in Peiping today repeated his demand that Souvanna Phouma head the coalition, and he generally is expected to get the post. Some quarters still believe Phoumi hopes to convince the king to head the proposed coalition, but Souphanouvong has said the king would not be acceptable because his position is sacred and above politics.

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—A young advertising agency employee walked into police headquarters Tuesday and started a gun battle with police a short time after his father was shot to death. He was injured critically by police bullets.

The gun play between Brendan McLaughlin, 26, an ex-Marine and former art student, and the police took place a short distance from the house where McLaughlin's father, 70, lay dead with five bullet wounds.

"Brendan just lost his mind," Mrs. Eugene McLaughlin said later of her son.

Police said McLaughlin began firing at two officers in the station, wounding patrolman Donald Bennette, 26, in the hip.

He then aimed his .45 pistol at desk officer Andrew Chappo, 35, who said "Don't be a fool. Put that gun down," making sure that his words carried over the police radio transmitter.

McLaughlin turned and fled with Chappo and the wounded Bennette in pursuit. McLaughlin was trapped outside in the police parking lot as cruisers, alerted by Chappo's words over the radio, converged on the station.

In the gunfight which followed, McLaughlin was felled by bullets in the stomach and chest. Chappo was hit in the hip.

The body of Eugene McLaughlin, a retired industrial engineer, was found by a police officer checking neighbors' reports of gun-fire coming from the house. The neighbors told police they saw the younger McLaughlin running from the house shortly after they heard the shots.

Richmond's Dock Area Scorched By An Explosion

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Exploding gas tanks sent flames racing through a section of the city's dock area early today.

Balls of flame rose 200 feet into the sky and the fire for a time threatened the area. The blaze appeared to be dying down after more than three hours of battling by more than 300 firemen.

One man was seriously injured. Six homes burned. About 30 children plus adults were evacuated, some to a nearby school.

The explosions occurred at the dock of the Crown Central Petroleum Corp. where a barge with 450,000 gallons of petroleum products was unloading.

Two hours after the fire started, P. R. Kirtley, a Crown employee, walked into the fire wearing an asbestos suit and turned valves on the barge pipe lines which permitted gas to flow into the river.

The tug towing the barge burned and sank. The barge floated free momentarily.

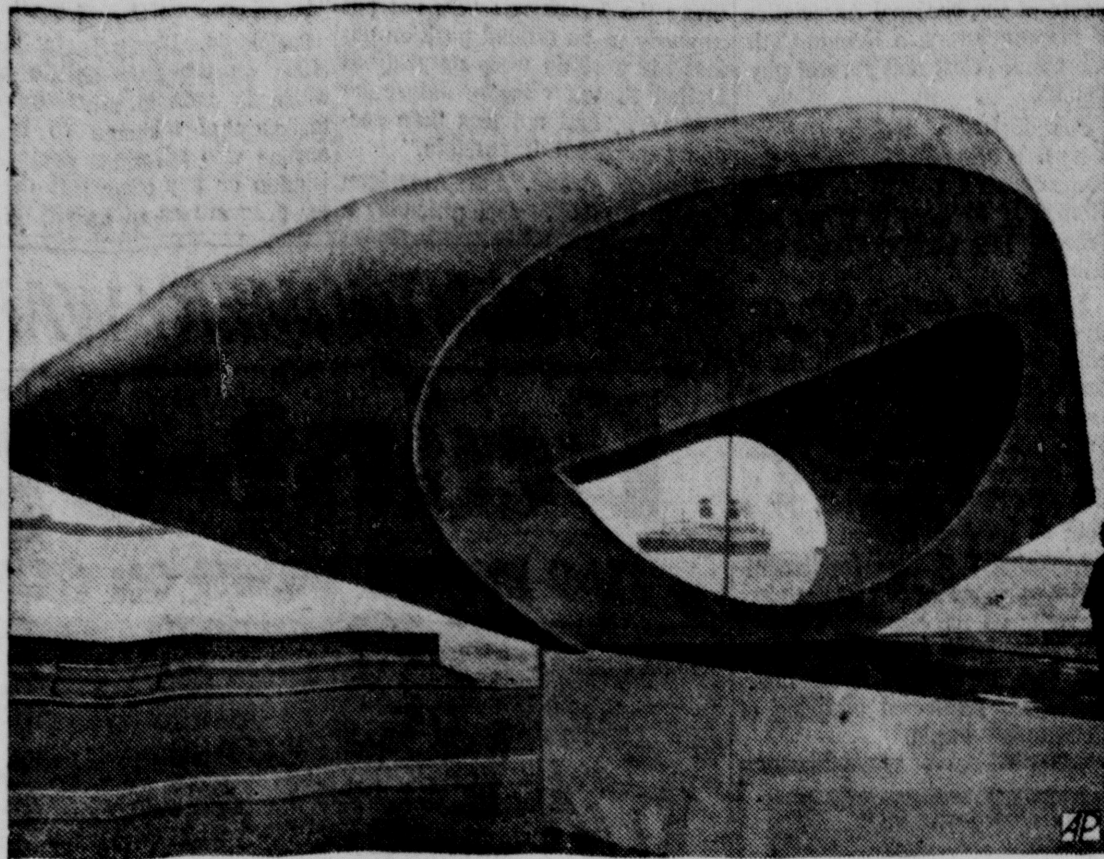

Expect Report Of an Increase In Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government was expected to report today a jump in unemployment of at least a half million due largely to a record surge of teen-agers into the labor force.

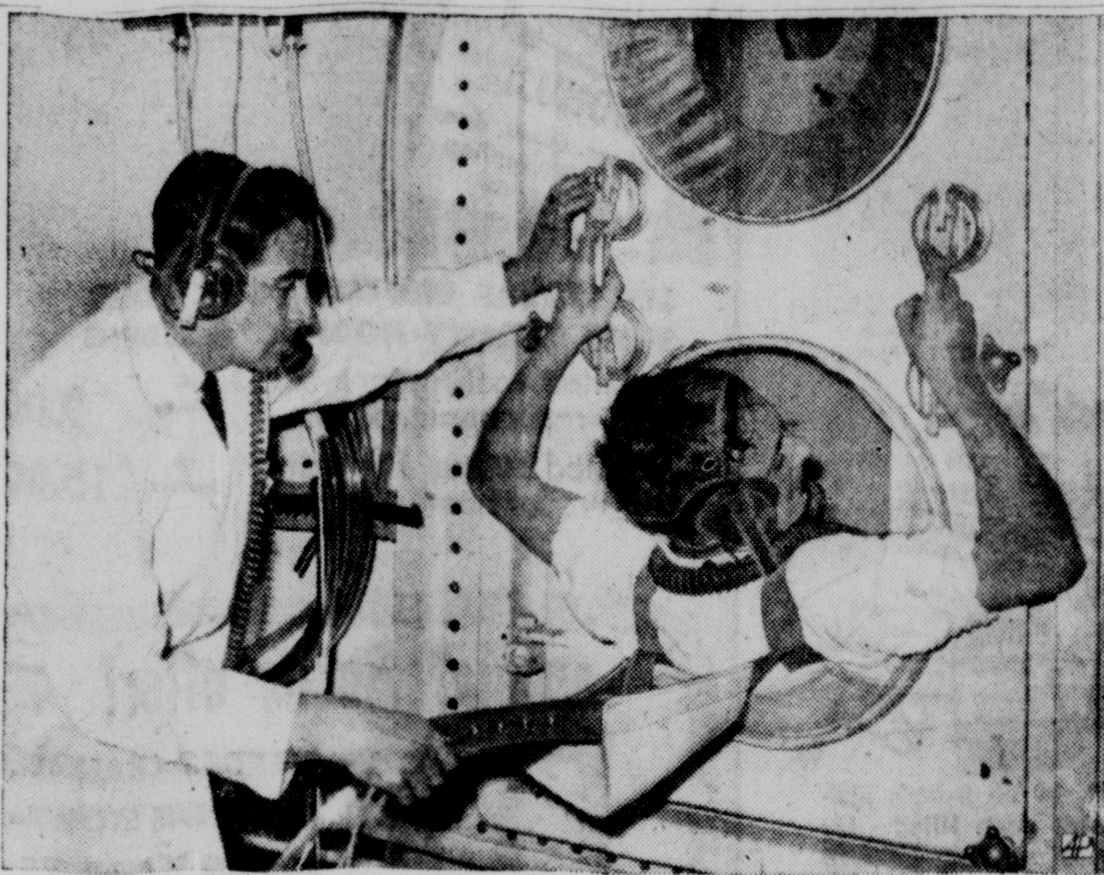

The flood of job-hunting youngsters, including an unprecedented number of high school and college graduates seeking permanent work, was due to send soaring both the employment and unemployment totals for June.

Officials previously had said that "if only seasonal factors were operating the May idle total of 4,768,000 would rise to about 5.5 million in June with accompanying large increases both in the total labor force and in the number working at jobs.

Parliament Efforts Are Bugged Down

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The drive to reconvene the Congolese Parliament was bogged down today in feuds and second thoughts despite insistent U.N. attempts to restore Democratic government in the year-old republic.

Maneuvering for influence and position among Leopoldville politicians threatened to kill the momentum built up last month when President Joseph Kasavubu announced the reopening of the national legislature after over nine months of non-parliamentary government. Kasavubu, Premier Joseph Ileo and his ministers were plagued by growing fears that voting in the Parliament might go against them.

Ileo has never received a parliamentary vote of confidence. Diplomatic observers give him little chance to survive once the legislature reconvenes.

Kasavubu himself was reportedly fearful of being ousted by someone more acceptable to the leftist Stanleyville regime of Antoine Gizenga.

The Leopoldville army chief, Gen. Joseph Mobutu, and his close political ally, Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko, are also key figures in the jockeying. Their close and friendly association with Katanga President Moise Tshombe after he was released from custody has local politicians and U.N. officials worried that the army chief is thinking about making a grab for power.

Move Against Reds Given A New Vigor

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's military rulers pressed their anti-Communist campaign with new vigor today, charging a former law school dean, his wife and three others with being Communist spies.

The military junta leveled the spy charges, which carry a maximum penalty of death, after accusing John M. Chang, former premier ousted in the May 16 coup, and 11 of his associates, of collaborating with the Communists. All are being held.

The junta also ordered stiff new penalties for sympathizing or trafficking with the Communists.

The stepped-up campaign was considered a smokescreen to divert attention from Monday's shakeup in which Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi took over as chairman of the ruling junta and named Song Yo-chan, a retired lieutenant general, as his premier. Pak thus pushed Lt. Gen. Chang Do-yong from both key posts, contending South Korea needed more aggressive leadership.

Accused of spying for the Reds were Chin Sung-nok, former dean of Seoul University Law School and a chairman of the Civil Service Commission under ex-President Syngman Rhee; his wife, Kong Myung-kil; her brother, Kong Kyu-min, and two others.

A junta spokesman said the five were under arrest and would be tried by court-martial.

The junta claimed Chin was kidnapped by North Korean Communists in 1950, taken to Pyongyang and converted to communism and then pretended to flee back to Seoul. The spokesman said the educator had contact with Red spies a half dozen times and protected them in his home.

The Communist sympathizers' law was virtually identical to one John Chang supported. The National Assembly failed to approve it after strong opposition from students who declared it would turn South Korea into a police state.

Pak, who as chairman of the junta is the moving force behind the anti-Red campaign, was himself once tagged with the Communist label.

Radio Broadcast From Moscow Is Not Too 'Newsy'

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio today broadcast four 10-month-old news items, including a report of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's arrival in Finland.

While Khrushchev slept in his Moscow bed, an early morning newscast told of his welcome to Finland by President Urho Kekkonen. The visit was last September.

The newscast included three other September news items: U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold welcoming news that Khrushchev would attend the General Assembly; the arrest of Congolese political leader Jean Bolikango, and the winning of gold medals by Soviet athletes at the Rome Olympics.

"It looks as though someone picked up an old file tape by mistake," said an official at the British Broadcasting Corporation's monitoring station. "I understand it has happened once before."

Missouri Can Show You . . .

Land of the Legend of LOST SILVER, Shannon County

Through the fascinating "Sink" area, named for its sunken caverns collapsed by constant water seepage, flows Sinkin Creek.

Where it tunnels through a mountain in northeast Shannon County, two early settlers reportedly found a silver hoard. Later both men disappeared, one supposedly murdered by the other for possession of the trove. An inscribed stone found in about 1881 gave the treasure's location as "10 paces from black gum tree in gulch and broken off 30 feet above ground."

Many have searched. Four, it is said, went mad. The legend remains—and who knows?—perhaps the silver, too.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

No other wagon can match Ford's features (or popularity!)

There's a whole wagonload of Ford features that only America's station wagon specialists can bring you.

First, there's more room. Ford's extended load deck is the longest and widest in its field. The tailgate opening is seven inches wider than last year, too.

There's more convenience. You can have an electrically controlled roll-down rear window in any Ford wagon . . . it's standard in all Country Squires and 9-Passenger Country Sedans. In their field, only Ford wagons have all seats facing forward. There's more distinction. The Country Squire (shown above) is the one and only wagon in its field with body panels that look like mahogany, wear like steel.

There are more savings, too. Ford's Ranch Wagon is America's lowest-priced,* full-size wagon. And like all Fords, every Ford wagon is built to be more service-free; goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes, brakes adjust automatically, mufflers are made to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers, and the finish never needs waxing.

STOP putting off that station wagon you've always wanted. SWAP for a '61 Ford wagon now while your Ford Dealer's celebrating record-breaking sales. SAVE with the wagon America loves most . . . made by FORD . . . America's station wagon specialists for 32 years!

Home Buyers Will Be Given Easier Terms on Financing

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Easier financing terms will be available now for many would-be home owners. That means those with a real urge will need less cash for a down payment and their monthly payments will be smaller because the mortgage will run longer.

The less they put up in cash and the longer they have to pay off the mortgage means, however, that the final cost of the house will be higher. Interest payments will add up over the years while their equity in their home will build up at a slower pace.

This may deter many who take a long-range view of managing their finances. But perhaps more persons will be interested in the down payment and monthly payment aspects of the new housing law which President Kennedy signed last week. The monthly payment as a way of life becomes more entrenched each year.

Builders with houses on their hands, especially in the lower price brackets where the new law particularly applies, hope the easing of terms will give a boost to their somewhat lagging industry.

Many others think any boost in housing starts may await next year, because of the time lag between planning and starting of construction.

The new law should widen the market for the lower priced house. Many who couldn't quite meet previous financing terms may find they can swing the new ones.

But what happens to the home building industry in general is still to be seen. The slackening in the last year or so has been attributed to many factors.

One, of course, is the very thing the new law is aimed to correct—the inability of lower income families to shoulder the financing terms.

But many in the industry concede that financing isn't the only factor.

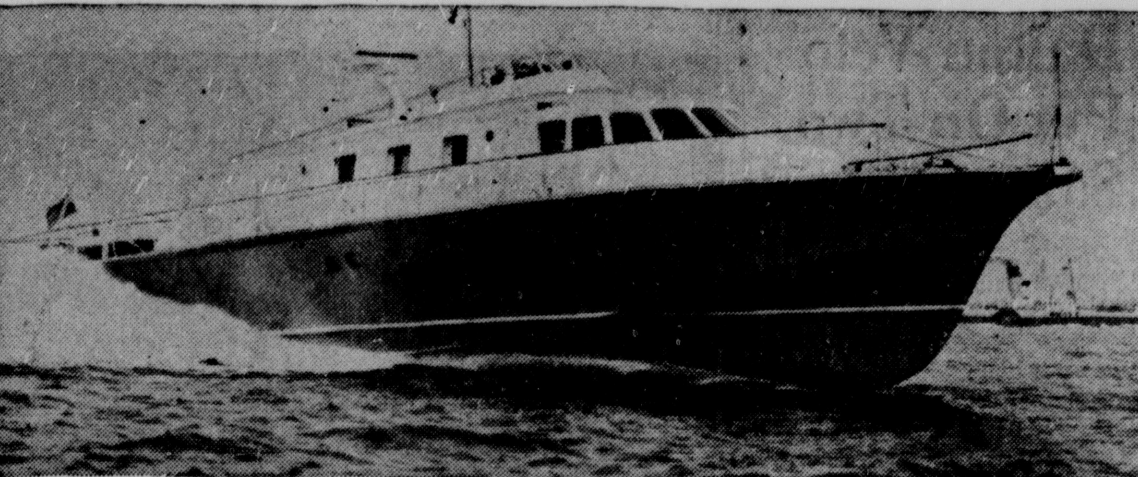

The deeper reason for the slowdown may be that the home-hungry horde of the late 1940s and the 1950s has by now been accommodated. Then family formations fell off, as the smaller baby crops of the depressed 1930s came of age and married. Now the bigger baby crops of the war years are reaching the marrying age—but it may be some time before they can afford new homes, even on the lower monthly payment terms.

Police Officers Given Vacations

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Mayor Ben West has given five-day paid vacations to two police officers who captured alleged bank robbers minutes after two holdups Monday.

Referring to a number of disciplinary suspensions given other policemen recently, West said, "if we give them five days without pay for bad work why don't we give these men five days with pay for good work?"

The vacations went to motorcycle officer Frank Hancock and detective C. O. Robinson.

Balance Sheet Shows Many Things On American Status

NEW YORK (AP)—Today we are trillionaires. The new status works both ways.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon says America's total debt at all levels tops a trillion dollars for the first time.

But look at the balance sheet of Americans as individuals. Their current assets are put at $959 billion. Add their fixed assets of $607 billion, and U.S. citizens can claim to be worth $1,566,000,000,000.

Of course, Secretary Dillon points out at the same time that individual debt totals $296 billion and continues to rise.

And as citizens we have a responsibility for the $290 billion federal debt and the $69 billion state and local debts. As stockholders they have an interest in corporate debt of $358 billion. (Corporate assets are much higher than this, and governments have financial and tangible assets, 500.)

Can you as American citizens afford to carry this debt? A lot of people say no. But look at the brighter side of the financial balance sheet.

At the 1961 halfway point personal income is running at $414 billion a year. And personal savings have been climbing in the first half of 1961. Then there are those financial assets of $959 billion.

That figure is garnered from reports of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, and the Department of Commerce.

The financial assets include $3 billion in preferred and common stocks, $102 billion in government securities, $26 billion in other securities such as corporate bonds and notes, nearly $67 billion in savings and loan associations and credit unions, more than $181 billion in currency and bank deposits. To that are added more than $149 billion in private insurance and pension reserves and $70 billion in various government insurance and pension reserves.

The fixed assets are figured this way: $404 billion equity in home ownership and $203 billion in current value of durable goods owned. The durable-goods equity is figured by totalling consumer purchases in the last 10 years, depreciated at 10 per cent annually.

The figuring to reach the total assets of one and a half trillion is subject to debate among accountants, as all such overall estimates are.

And the question of whether individuals' assets justify the steadily climbing personal debt—or whether the national economy, growing jerkily but steadily, justifies the rising total of government and private debt—is up for sharp debate in and out of Congress.

In New York financial circles the majority opinion is that both private and public debt is still on a sound basis. That is, the national and personal assets and the current national and personal incomes can carry the debt load without undue strain.

Train Derailed

In Crash With Stalled Truck

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad's General Trailblazer, bound from New York to Chicago, hit a stalled truck and was derailed today in the village of Convoys. Seven persons were hurt, none seriously.

The three-unit diesel engine and six coaches left the rails but none overturned. Three of the cars were tipped at a 45-degree angle, and windows had to be broken to remove the passengers from the cars. About 1,000 feet of track was ripped up.

Convoy is 21 miles east of Fort Wayne, Ind., and seven miles west of Van Wert.

Dalton Veto Put On Two Salary Hikes

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton today vetoed two salary increase bills for St. Louis officials and signed 19 other measures into law.

He rejected one that would have increased the pay of the St. Louis sheriff's attorney from $3,000 to $5,000 a year. Also vetoed was a $1,500 pay raise for St. Louis constables who now get $7,000 a year.

The governor signed a bill to provide state parking facilities in this capital city—a problem that has besieged legislators for years.

Dalton signed one bill that organized labor fought right down to the wire. It would let corporations contribute to campaign funds for or against legislation that would affect them directly.

One of Dalton's three successful traffic safety bills was signed. It makes it a misdemeanor for anyone to drive in Missouri if his license has been canceled, suspended or revoked.

Other bills signed included these to:

Broaden the state Park Board's authority to issue revenue bonds for construction of new facilities in parks.

Place farmers' co-op credit associations in the same category as savings and loan associations as far as intangible property taxes are concerned.

Let towns or villages of over 2,500 population decide by vote how many trustees would administer the public business. Now the number is set at nine.

Increase the compensation of Greene County's chief clerk of the magistrate court, from $4,000 to $5,400 a year.

UN Monitor Proposed For Atomic Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations should be invited to monitor and inspect a limited program of U.S. underground nuclear tests for peaceful purposes, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., suggested today.

He also proposed turning over to the United Nations the data and results of such tests.

Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader and chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, said in a statement that U.N. inspection of the tests would give the Soviet Union "a clear alternative to the impasse which now exists in the test ban negotiations."

"Its delegates may vote to join this project of testing for peaceful purposes or face the censure of world opinion by voting against our resolution."

Humphrey stressed he was not suggesting a resumption of military nuclear tests.

He urged President Kennedy to culminate among foreign Communist parties a letter denouncing Red Chinese policies.

In Deutscher's article, it was reported that Khrushchev had accused the Red Chinese Communists under Mao Tse-tung of violating an international Communist agreement, made last November at Moscow, which represented a compromise on expansionist policies between Soviet and Red Chinese attitudes.

Highly placed officials said today the United States had no independent evidence to confirm the existence of such a Khrushchev message. Obviously efforts are being made to obtain a copy of the document if it exists, officials said. But in high quarters here there was considerable skepticism today about the reported document.

There was no doubt, however, that deep differences do exist between Moscow and Peiping. Possibly one of the fundamental aspects on these differences is that the Soviet Union is a nuclear power and Red China is not. The evidence available to Western leaders is that the Russians have refused all Red Chinese efforts to get help in building their own nuclear military capacity. This, in itself, would serve as a cause for severe disturbances, in view of China's developing ambition to be a first-rate world power.

The effect of the renewed Soviet-Red Chinese dispute on the Berlin crisis is more complicated and more difficult to judge. The Moscow-Western argument over Berlin is expected to reach fever-pitch toward the end of this year and could carry a risk of nuclear war.

Kennedy administration officials have felt that Khrushchev probably would not carry the conflict that close to global disaster, although, under the Chinese theory of taking a greater risk of war, he might be inclined to do so. There is also speculation that Chinese rivalry with Soviet Communism might make the Russian leader feel a need to take greater risks in order to prove that Communists in Moscow were just as dedicated as those in Peiping.

AROUND-THE-DESK WIGGLER—German beauty Lilo Pulver, left (as if there could be doubt), plays secretary to Jimmy Cagney, center, in the new film, "One, Two, Three." Cagney plays a U.S. businessman intrigued with Lilo's around-the-desk ala Monroe wiggle. Here, director Billy Wilder gives the pair a last-minute briefing.

Fires In City

City firemen were called to the J. S. Simon residence, 1620 West Broadway, at 4:40 a.m. Wednesday to investigate resulting damages from a short in a television set.

The damages occurred earlier and were apparently under control when firemen were called to make a check.

Damages were estimated by the owner at $500 to $600.

Wind blowing a curtain over a cookstove touched off a minor blaze at the Maurice Blasingame residence, 217 South Montebau, at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday. Damages totaled $250.

City firemen were called and hurriedly extinguished the flames. Damage was estimated at $200 to the structure and $50 to contents.

No damage was reported by city firemen who were called to 218 South Hancock to extinguish a grass fire at 10:22 a.m. Wednesday.

Burning trash had set fire to grass on the vacant lot at the address.

City firemen used one booster line to extinguish a grass fire in the 1700 block on South Limit at 12:53 p.m. Tuesday. No damage was listed.

Burning trash was the apparent cause of the blaze, firemen said.

Only slight damage was recorded at 4:20 p.m. Tuesday when firemen were called to the Cord Buckner residence, 301 East Jefferson, where a shed was reported ablaze.

Origin of the flames was not listed.

3 Dominicans Are Pledged Full Freedom

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Three Dominican exiles arrived today from Puerto Rico and said they returned to contribute to the birth and consolidation of democracy in the Dominican Republic.

They came to test President Joaquin Balaguer's promise that political opposition will be welcome in this country for the first time in 30 years and were met on arrival by a presidential representative who assured them they have the full freedom of the country.

The three, who fled the Dominican Republic during the rule of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, are Angel Mian, Nicolas Slifa and Ramon A. Castillo of the Dominican Revolutionary party.

Despite skepticism among other exiles living here, the three said they received a seven-point guarantee of safety while they attempt to organize opposition in the republic to the dominant Dominican party.

The guarantee, they said, included amnesty of 90-year prison terms hanging over their heads, freedom of speech and movement and the right to communicate with their party president, Juan Borsch, who lives in Costa Rica.

Truman Refused An Invitation To Philippines

MANILA (AP)—Former President Harry Truman, who fired General of the Army Douglas MacArthur from his Far East commands in a dispute over conduct of the Korean War, also was invited to visit the Philippines but declined.

Jose Noble, press secretary to President Carlos P. Garcia, disclosed today that Truman was invited to visit last year but replied that the 1960 Democratic convention would prevent the trip.

Truman has a permanent niche in Philippine history because as president he signed the proclamation declaring the country independent. No mention was made of him during the Independence Day anniversary celebration Tuesday, at which MacArthur was the guest of honor.

McKinley Enters Final Round At Wimbledon Meet

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Charles (Chuck) McKinley of St. Louis smashed Mike Sangster of England 6-4, 6-4, 8-6 today and gained the final round of the Wimbledon lawn tennis championship. He will meet Rod Laver of Australia for the title Friday.

Laver, runner-up the last two years, bowled over Ramanathan Krishnan of India 6-2, 8-6, 6-2. The left-handed Australian was seeded No. 2, McKinley No. 8.

The McKinley-Sangster match was a battle of sheer power. Both players threw caution to the wind and apparently tried to make every shot a winner.

Their serving and volleying provided the heaviest cannonading of the tournament so far.

Karen Hantze of Chula Vista, Calif., only U.S. seed this year, lost to Rene Schuurman of South Africa in a quarter-final upset Tuesday.

Dispute

direct the U.S. delegation to sponsor a resolution in the coming session of the General Assembly advocating establishment of a U.N. control system for the American testing program.

"There can be no workable treaty for a test ban until we have developed effective methods to detect underground nuclear explosions. Such methods can be perfected only through a responsible research program which includes underground nuclear testing," Humphrey said.

He described the Geneva test ban negotiations as "hopelessly bogged down."

The Geneva impasse stems from Soviet insistence that a three man executive board run any test ban inspection machinery. The Western powers have not agreed, since the proposed directorate would give the Soviets a veto over the whole policing system.

Several congressional leaders have expressed fears that the Soviets might be conducting sneak tests.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., said Tuesday in a taped interview that there have been no major improvements recently in the equipment used to detect atomic explosions.

Holifield, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, urged Kennedy to take steps to make the public acutely aware that "We do not have a defense against atomic attack at this time."

Bogart's Widow, Jason Robards Finally Married

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Thwarted by legal red tape in previous attempts to wed, actor Jason Robards and actress Lauren Bacall, widow of Humphrey Bogart, are man and wife today.

They were wed in a civil ceremony Tuesday in the Mexican coastal town of Ensenada.

But the newlyweds couldn't enjoy a honeymoon—because Robards had to appear for work at a studio today. Instead they motored back to Hollywood.

Robards, a New York stage actor, and Miss Bacall first tried to marry last month in Vienna but were unable to provide legal proof of Robards' eligibility.

Another attempt was frustrated in Las Vegas, Nev., last Saturday night. The marriage bureau said the refusal of a license was related to the Mexican divorce of Robards' second wife, Rachel, obtained May 22 in Juarez, Mexico. Nevada honors some, but not all, Mexican divorces.

Robards listed his age as 38, Miss Bacall 36.

Roads

have funds for this reconstruction.

The Knob Noster group, in the letter to Corbett, indicates a belief that the Hale Lake Road is unnecessary, and that funds for construction of this route should be used to improve Highway 50 in the Muddy Creek area. The letter reads in part:

"We, here in Knob Noster, wholeheartedly agree with you and Whiteman Air Force Base officials in that the Muddy Creek Bridge is truly a very dangerous area. You also stated that widening of this bridge would eliminate the hazard, but due to limited funds, it could not be done at this time."

The Knob Noster group identifies Hale Lake Road as a planned route running from the west entrance of the base (Route 132) westward across the Knob Noster State Park to Warrensburg. The letter also states:

"As we have told your office on numerous occasions, we think this is a great waste of money. The officials at WAFB do not want nor need this road. If they did, we would be in full accord. You have a four-lane divided highway just two miles to the north connecting the same points. There is also a farm-to-market road just two miles to the south which also connects the same two points."

"Your department says they are constructing the 'Hale Lake Road' for the benefit of WAFB. Just talk to the commander of WAFB. If he wants and needs it, build it. Also, if you would examine the situation fully, you would find that the 'Hale Lake Road' is really being constructed for the benefit of a few individuals. If they would only analyze the situation, they will find that even they would not be benefited enough to warrant the expense involved to the taxpayers, not to mention the fact that our beautiful state park will be cut into and the hazard the deer will cause in the area to the motorists."

"Now, my point is this. Why not take the money that has been allotted for the 'Hale Lake Road' and eliminate the Muddy Creek bridge hazard? You say that Missouri is not keeping pace since Missouri has such a low gasoline tax. To us, this is one fallacy. Don't spend our money on such a project as the 'Hale Lake Road' and let the Muddy Creek bridge hazard go uncorrected."

"We think your department has done a wonderful job on our roads with the funds they have had. We, the Knob Noster Chamber of Commerce, have been in favor of the proposed increase in gasoline tax. It is a known fact that you could do a much better job with adequate funds."

"Please consider, again, the waste of money which will exist if the 'Hale Lake Road' is constructed. Correct Muddy Creek bridge hazard with this money."

Macabre Plan Was Created By Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann made the startling claim on the witness stand today that he—not Heinrich Himmler—devised the macabre plan to trade the lives of a million Jews for trucks badly needed by the Nazi armies in 1944.

The former Gestapo lieutenant colonel said he conceived the idea in Budapest and chose Jewish leader Yoel Brand to fly to Palestine to try to get the Jewish Agency to negotiate with the Western Allies.

But Eichmann denied he ever told Brand he would "still the death mills of Auschwitz" or would start them up again if the bargain collapsed, as Brand testified earlier in Eichmann's trial. "I never made such a remark. To still the mills of death or to start them up was beyond the realm of my jurisdiction," the defendant declared.

Eichmann today told his own story of his role in Hungary, where he is charged with personally supervising the deportation of 600,000 Jews to their doom. He is indicted by Israel as the main-spring of the whole mass slaughter of European Jewry in his wartime job as chief of "Jewish affairs" in the Gestapo.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius gave Eichmann full rein to describe his Hungarian experience—the chapter of the extermination story that forms a key-stone of Israel's case. Eichmann responded with fervor, his hands shaking in excitement. Repeatedly the court had to admonish him to stop so the interpreters could catch up.

The defendant's own view of his job in Hungary was in direct contrast to the evidence submitted by Israel. He did admit "helping" to draw up "travel charts and time-tables" for mass deportations ordered by Himmler but contended the

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: When my husband came home from work I was giving the baby a bath in the kitchen sink. He raised the roof, said it was low-brow and unsanitary, and insisted that I bathe the baby in the bath tub.

Well, the bath tub is too low and it bothers my back to bend. Besides, the baby is only two months old and the bath tub is too big for him. We had a terrific argument and I told my husband I'd write to you for a decision. Please settle this. — My Achin' Back

Dear Back: Your husband is right. But his reasons are not the important ones.

It's dangerous to bathe a baby in the kitchen sink because you could easily bang his little head on the faucets above. Or, you might accidentally turn on the hot water.

If you can't afford a bathinette, buy a wash basin and place it on the drain board so you won't have to bend. But please stop bathing the baby in the kitchen sink.

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is not being written by the average age goofball who asks for help. I don't need help—just an opinion.

I've been married 12 years. Women have always done nip-ups over me and my wife knows it. I've had a few mild flirtations but nothing big until six months ago when a stunning girl came to work in my department. I told my wife I was heading for a fling. Instead of going to pieces she was mature and calm and said she'd stand by until I got it out of my system.

To show my appreciation I bought her gifts and was thoughtful and considerate. She never asked questions and she behaved admirably. As I predicted, the affair burned itself out in three months. Now I'm happy to be home and my wife appreciates me more than ever. So you see when a woman is grown-up nobody gets hurt. Please print this as an object lesson for wives.

—Rick
Dear Rick: So what do you want, a good conduct medal? Don't give me that "nobody gets hurt" routine. Just because your wife didn't throw herself in front of a train don't think her heart wasn't breaking. It was she who showed wisdom and strength, so orchids to her. For you, Sir, skunk cabbage.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm working with a brilliant real estate man trying to learn the business.

The only problem is the office is in his home and his family drives me crazy. His wife phoned me at my home this evening to ask what he and I talk about all day. His daughter spent an hour today telling me how much money waitresses make and suggested that I consider it.

I love this work and don't want to give it up but I've gone to the doctor already because of my nerves. Is there any way I can get his family to leave me alone?

—V
Dear V: Not so long as the office is in their home. If you like the business, get a job with another real estate firm—one with offices downtown.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chyrel Jolls Called 'Very Sick Girl'

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A young girl with a history of mental illness underwent psychiatric tests today in the investigation of the kidnap slaying of Andy Ashley, 3.

Chyrel Lee Jolls, 15, of Buffalo was termed "a very sick girl," by Police Commissioner Frank N. Felicitta.

The 5-year-old children who had been enticed with candy and left bound and gagged beside railroad tracks, Monday identified Chyrel as their abductor. Police believe the same person was responsible in the drowning of Andy.

"You took me. You took me," Richard Edgington cried when he saw Chyrel as she was brought into a police station Monday. Susan Benedict picked Chyrel out of a police lineup as the person who had left her helpless beside a railroad right-of-way.

Felicitta said there was a remote possibility that Chyrel was not the killer. However, he added that the girl "has tied herself up in an amazing series of circumstances — more than you would need in the average case."

Chyrel, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jolls, was taken to Meyer Memorial Hospital. Psychiatric tests that could last up to three weeks were scheduled.

No charge has been placed and Chyrel has admitted nothing.

Chyrel was questioned three times since Andy Ashley was kidnapped June 23. The day after the boy was reported missing, she was taken into custody on a complaint that she was offering candy to youngsters.

An hour before Andy's bound body was recovered from a park lake on June 25, Chyrel was caught in a telephone booth making a call to Mrs. Francis Ashley. She told FBI agents who had tapped the Ashley phone, that she was trying to console the parents.

Police said they found in the girl's room three sheets of paper with scribbled notes about the Ashley investigation.

Sun Can Damage the Eye

Those who grew up in the era of two-seated lawn swings find the pleasure of their comfort never diminishes. Not many of them are available these days. They seem to have gone the way of the old-fashioned rocking chairs.

While enjoying the use of a lawn swing at a Fourth of July backyard picnic the glare of the setting sun through colored glasses reminded us to turn our head and avoid the direct rays.

This precaution is, worth passing along to those who believe that smoked glass or dark glasses can protect the eyes from the direct rays of the sun. We recall a statement by Dr. William W. Bolton, associate director, Department of Health Education, American Medical Association, to this effect: "There is unfortunately a widespread misunderstanding that dark glasses are sufficient to protect the eye when one looks directly at the sun. Writing in an issue of Today's Health, published by the A.M.A.,

Dr. Bolton said that after each eclipse of the sun "a certain number of persons are observed to have permanent damage of the retina with loss of central vision, even after using smoked or dark glasses."

Parents certainly should caution children against the practice of looking at the sun these summer days, or any other day for that matter whether there is an eclipse or not. Even when the sun is partially observed, its rays are still very intense. Anyone who looks will bear this out at the risk of eye damage. As Dr. Bolton points out, "Dark glasses only screen against reflected glare that results as the sun's rays strike the earth."

Dark glasses have their utility, of course, such as on the open road and on the water, as well as in general outdoor use, even in a two-seated lawn swing at a backyard picnic. But they're no good for looking directly at the boiling orb. So be careful yourself, and warn the children.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Drug Hearings On Lower Pill Price

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee today opens new drug hearings which are going to make the American Medical Association (AMA) and the big drug companies awfully mad. But they will make most doctors and all people who have to pay for medicine glad.

Kefauver has introduced a bill, S. 1552, in cooperation with Rep. Manny Celler of New York, aimed at bringing down the high price of pills. His bill would also safeguard both the public and the over-worked doctor from highly advertised but untested medicine which sometimes has very harmful side effects.

Even before the hearings opened, the Kefauver-Celler bill came in for a barrage of criticism from none other than ex-Vice President Nixon. Speaking in New York last week Nixon branded the bill as a "punitive measure" against the drug industry and berated it about as vigorously as he berated Kennedy.

What most people didn't realize, however, was that Nixon was speaking before the Pharmaceutical Advertising Clubs of New York, Chicago, and Montreal, and the chairman who introduced him "as the man who should have been president" was Elmer Bobst, head of the giant Warner-Lambert Drug Company.

Mr. Bobst was a big money raiser for Mr. Nixon last year, having been among only 91 Americans who gave more than $10,000 to the Republican party in the 1960 election—in his case $13,000. Bobst was also chairman of the Republican money-raising drive in New Jersey.

Squibbs and GOP

The drug industry, which Sen. Kefauver wants to regulate through S.1552, and which Mr. Bobst doesn't want regulated, has been very kind to Mr. Bobst, and you can understand why he gave so much money to Nixon who opposes regulation.

For many years, Bobst was the American big wheel for the Swiss drug firm of Hoffman-LaRoche and received 5 per cent of its profits. This gave him $300,000 a year. Later as chairman of Warner-Lambert, Bobst's salary rated second only to General Motors executives as the highest in the United States.

Warner-Lambert could afford it. Fortune magazine lists it as one of the most prosperous companies in the USA with a net profit after taxes of around 20 per cent.

Other big Republican money-raisers who have profited from the drug industry and who back Nixon as against the Kefauver bill are executives of Olin Mathieson, a far-flung firm which owns E. R. Squibb and Sons, Spencer T. Olin was head of the entire Republican finance committee last year and together with his family coughed up $37,000 for the GOP.

Though Squibbs accounts for only one-fifth of Olin-Mathieson's sales in 1958, profits are so high in the drug industry that Squibbs rolled up four-fifths of Olin-Mathieson's profits.

Delightful Senator Everett Dirksen, who represents Olin-Mathieson's home state of Illinois and who is a member of the Kefauver committee on drug-price fixing, did his best to sidetrack the hearings at first and signed a dissenting report. So did every other Republican on the Kefauver committee—Hruska of Nebraska and Wiley of Wisconsin. They voted with the big GOP contributors.

Squibbs Doctor Squeals

You can understand why Olin-Mathieson should be so completely unenthusiastic about Mr. Kefauver's effort to regulate the drug industry, for Keef dug some highly embarrassing skeletons out of the drug closet. For instance he put Squibbs' former medical director, Dr. Console, on the witness stand and drew from him this testimony about the drug companies' habit of putting unsound and ineffective drugs on the market through a barrage of advertising:

"The problem arises out of the fact that they (the drug companies) market so many failures," said the former medical director of Squibbs. "Between these failures which are presented as new drugs and the useless modifications of old drugs—the addition of zinc to vitamins is a good example—most of the research results in a treadmill and moves so fast it gets nowhere."

"Since so much depends on novelty," testified Dr. Console, "drugs change like women's hemlines. . . I doubt that there are many other industries in which research is so free of risk. With a little luck, proper timing, and a good promotion program, a bag of asafetida with a unique chemical side chain can be made to look like a wonder drug."

"The illusion may not last. But by the time the doctor learns what the company knew at the beginning, it has two new products to take the place of the old one."

The Kefauver-Celler bill which the big drug companies and ex-Vice President Nixon are opposing would do the following:

1.—License all drug companies and permit the Food and Drug Administration to inspect any drug company's operation.

2.—Permit the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to fix easy and simple names for drugs, instead of confusing names which even some doctors can't remember. Testimony during the Kefauver hearings showed that some drug companies deliberately attached confusing names to basic drugs in order to sell the same thing by a simpler, trademarked and more profitable name—at triple and quadruple the price.

3.—Permit Food and Drug to ban drugs which have injurious side effects; and permit the secretary of HEW to publish lists of harmful drugs.

4.—Restrict patents on new drugs for three years instead of 17, after which the new drug would bring a royalty of 8 per cent for the remainder of the 17 years; ban patents on combinations of old drugs put together under a new name; ban monopoly combines of drug companies for the purpose of hiking the price of pills.

This is why the drug industry is boiling mad at Senator Kefauver and what has sent armies of lobbyists, despite the heat, streaming to Washington in mid-summer to beat this bill.

Number One Nurse

The nation's No. 1 nurse, Lucile Petry Leone is the only woman in the United States to have the rank equal to a brigadier general of the Army or rear admiral of the Navy.

She is the only woman in the 150 year history of the U. S. Public Health Service to be the Assistant General and Chief Nurse Officer.

General (Admiral) Leone is feminine and beautiful and has great dreams for the nursing profession. She says it is not a career of self-sacrifice but of self-fulfillment.

There is a shortage in this country of nurses and the No. 1 nurse wants to inspire and encourage more young women to enter this exciting, stimulating and humane profession. She wants more visiting nurses in our communities, because patients get well quicker if they had visiting nurses call at home.

Assistant Surgeon General Leone is seeking congressional appropriation for a national visiting nurse program, but she is in favor of the patients paying for nursing care whenever they can.

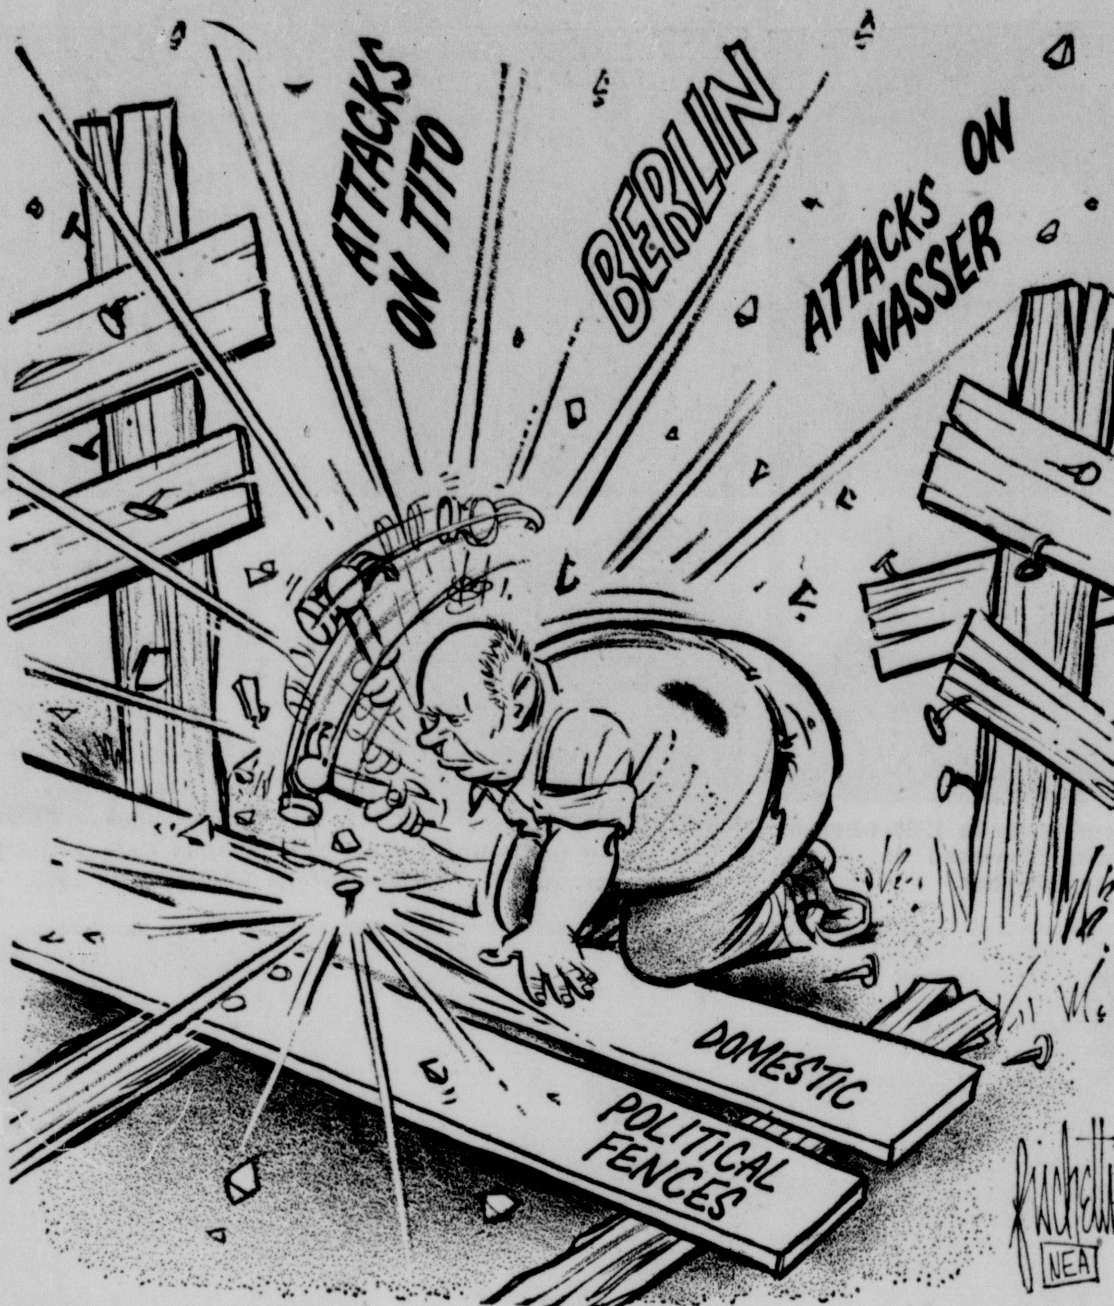

As President of the National League of Nursing, Mrs. Leone travels widely conferring with health leaders and nurses throughout the world. She has already visited all 50 states as a lecturer on behalf of the League and as Assistant Surgeon General.

Hemingway: Honesty In Every Line

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ernest Hemingway's people confronted death as something not to be postponed, as Hector in Homer's Iliad did when he stopped running to face Achilles, armed but without hope.

Hemingway said 26 years ago, long before illness overtook him, "I must write because if I do not write a certain amount I do not enjoy the rest of my life."

It is a reasonable guess the prospect of years of invalidism, or at least marginal vitality, took the joy out of life for him.

This may be too simple for future analysts seeking the meaning of the shotgun blast which killed him last Sunday. You can almost read them now:

That his concern with death, which dominated all he wrote, meant he was obsessed with fear of it and that he sought to buy time through the years by marching character after character to inevitable doom as a substitute for himself.

The literary pigeon-fanciers who like cooing for a message mauled him. But he was no soothsayer, he used words like rocks, and, in the beginning he had no message.

Maxwell Geismar once wrote that Hemingway's people "act as if thought is unthinkable." This was true. He was an artist, writing about the muscles of the heart, not the capillaries of the brain. The muscles got tired as he grew older. His best work: the short stories, "The Sun Also Rises," "A Farewell to Arms," some parts of "Death in the Afternoon," some parts of "To Have and Have Not."

It was downhill after that—although for him it was up on the mountain for most of his contemporaries—as if he had listened too much to the critics who wanted a message, who said he had no social consciousness.

In those early days he showed none of it. Why should he have? He was an artist writing about Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Turning in a score of 64 with the aid of a 17-stroke handicap, A. R. Scott won the annual Independence Day handicap golf tournament at the Sedalia Country Club. A stroke behind with net scores of 65, Roy Snyder and Heber Hunt tied for second place. Snyder had a gross 85 and a handicap of 20, while Hunt had a gross 78 and a handicap of 13.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Robert Henderson, who has been attending Washington-Lee University, Lexington, Va., arrived home accompanied by his father, Mel T. Henderson who had been the guest of his son the past five weeks. Mr. Henderson and son made the trip overland. They were joined in Cincinnati, O., by Mrs. L. J. Luckett, of that place, and Miss Ruth Short, of Sedalia, who had been Mrs. Luckett's guest. Mrs. Luckett will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jule G. Schmid, of South Prospect avenue for several weeks.

people in trouble as he saw them, without moral judgments. He had one measuring rod: to write "truly." It was his own word.

But no one can ever really understand—perhaps feel is a better word—what Hemingway really meant to American literature unless he was alive and young in those middle 1920s when Hemingway's work began.

The woods were full of literary frauds, and second-raters who played it cute and safe, wrote strictly for bucks, suffered from Victorian anemia, or pumped out sex-shockers which disappeared in the garbage can.

There were some honest men writing, like Theodore Dreiser and Sherwood Anderson, who tried to cut new roads with stories about the world as they saw it themselves, but Dreiser was clumsy and Anderson was sentimental.

Then Hemingway, who used his ears to listen and not to keep his hat off his chin, broke through to write about talk as it's spoken and life as it is. He wrote to write and not for money. He made no concessions.

He did it with enormous self-discipline and economy in language and emotion. He created a yardstick by which those coming after him had to be measured. At his worst he was a giant.

Perhaps the future will decide his greatest contribution was not his style (which sometimes became a caricature of itself) or his ear (which wasn't always good) but his honesty above all in a field where it's a cinch to cheat.

Hoffa Has Plenty of Irons In Fire for His Teamsters

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — After four years of storm and strife, James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa is going to be constitutionally and legally elected general president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers, practically without opposition. The big union's first national convention since 1957 opened in Miami Beach Monday, and a new chapter in U.S. organized labor warfare and history may be beginning.

There is no love between Jimmy Hoffa and AFL-CIO President George Meany. Hoffa and President Walter Reuther of the Auto-Workers and the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Division might get along. John L. Lewis has retired. Hoffa is younger than them all, aggressive and going places.

Hoffa has not pushed his conference on transportation unity, announced three years ago with Joseph Curran of the Maritime Union and Capt. William V. Bradley of the East Coast International Longshoremen's Assn. but the idea has not been abandoned. Hoffa also has good working relations with the West Coast Longshoremen under Harry Bridges. They have been working together on automation problems and there has been some joint bargaining.

Last May, Curran initiated a mutual aid pact with Hoffa and Bradley as a protective maneuver for the current maritime strike. Captain Bradley later withdrew under apparent threat of being forced out of the AFL-CIO by Meany.

All these maneuvers indicate the potentialities of closer relations between the transport unions.

Hoffa has not been idle in pushing the affairs of his own union during the last four years when he was only "provisional" president and under constant government pressure.

He has won average gains of 39 cents an hour for the teamsters in the last two years, in comparison to average gains of 29 cents in manufacturing and industrial unions.

In recent months Hoffa has negotiated contracts with Central, Southern and New England states truckers which will all expire

Feb. 1, 1964. By that date or possibly three years later, he hopes to have uniform expiration date contracts covering the whole country. Hoffa argues this will stabilize the industry. Shippers fear it will enable him to call nationwide strikes, immobilizing U.S. transportation.

Interstate Commerce Commission has just ruled against Hoffa interests in approving rates for two types of railroad piggyback service. Hoffa has a plan to collect $5 from shippers for each container or trailer hauled by rail. He would have this payment put in a pension and welfare fund for his union members, to cushion the impacts of automation.

Hoffa has delayed demands for this royalty payment for a year, pending further study with the shippers. But as the legally constituted head of his union he is now able to push ahead on this and other drives mentioned above.

The 1961 Teamsters convention may not be as exciting as the last one in 1957, when 13 rank and filers from New York challenged the result. This led to a lawsuit, a consent decree and the appointment of a board of monitors by U.S. Judge F. Dickinson Letts, to clean up the union. It also led to the Senate McClellan committee hearings. All this cost the Teamsters union an estimated $3 million.

But that's now over. Judge Letts has abolished the monitors, authorized the convention, authorized amendments to the union constitution to bring it into compliance with the Landrum-Griffin law. One amendment will let the Teamsters take in any organized workers. This is another Hoffa goal which could lead to a lot of labor jurisdictional warfare.

So Hoffa emerges as undisputed boss of the big, tough union with 1,700,000 members, $39 million in assets and an annual gross income of $9 million. The program he lays out in convention can set off plenty of Fourth of July fireworks.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Assembly Increases

County Road Fund

Among appropriations made by the legislature for the next two Add to Highlights and Sidelights fiscal years is $5,186,000 for the County Aid Road Fund (King Roads). This may be compared with the last two-year appropriation of $4,800,000.

Though the current appropriation is higher than the last, it still falls considerably short of what counties have indicated they need to build and maintain county roads.

Replies to questionnaires sent to all counties indicates they could match $5.7 million construction in the coming two fiscal years and the County Aid Road Committee estimates that there will be some 45,000 miles of needed maintenance repairs.

Assembly Boosts

Parks Program

The 71st General Assembly has given the state parks system a resounding vote of confidence by passing the entire program sought by the State Park Board.

Joseph Jaeger Jr., director of the state parks system, says, "We are in the best position ever."

The Park Board was backing 12 measures before the legislature. Most had to do with land easements but there were five major proposals.

1. PARK RANGER FORCE: By a vote of 122-10, the House concurred in a Senate-amended measure authorizing a Park Ranger force, a step the Park Board finds necessary to combat mounting vandalism and hooliganism in the parks. The Senate amendment denies rangers the powers of search and seizure.

Jaeger has indicated the initial force would consist of perhaps eight men and he said they will undergo special training for peace officers.

Park rangers will have authority only on park property.

2. LITTERBUGGING: Complementing the Ranger force is a measure making it unlawful for any person to litter state parks, among other provisions.

In giving testimony for this measure, Jaeger displayed photographs of heaps of rubbish taken from springs in the parks and of littered roads and byways. This littering despite receptacles provided for trash.

3. TABLE ROCK RESORT: By a vote of 128-5, the House concurred in a Senate-amended measure enabling the Park Board to attract an investor to put up a multi-million dollar resort with convention facilities on park property next to Table Rock Dam. The resort will enable Missouri to compete with similar facilities in operation in Illinois and Oklahoma.

4. BONDING BILL: A measure the Park Board had tried to get before but failed was finally passed authorizing revenue from all state parks to back bonds for construction of facilities in one or more parks. It should enable the Park Board to get bids on bonds.

struction of facilities in one or more parks. It should enable the Park Board to get bids on bonds.

5. TEN YEAR CONCESSIONS: By a vote of 125-0, the House concurred in a Senate-amended measure authorizing the Park Board to contract for 10 years, rather than two, for concessions on land contiguous to federal reservoir land. This is intended to enable the Park Board to attract concessions like boating facilities which require big investments.

TIME OF YOUR LIFE BY ARTHUR LORD

for practical advice on the problems of growing older.

Dear Arthur: A young fellow came around the other day and tried to sell me some mutual fund shares. He said that now that I am retired I could double my savings in just a few years. All I have to do, he said, is invest in his fund.

I don't know very much about stocks, but if what this fellow says is true, I want you to tell me so.

J. D.
Dear J. D.: If what that salesman says is true, I'll invest all I have along with you and we'll both get rich. The trouble is that no mutual fund, no stock, no security is guaranteed to do anything except change its market price from time to time.

The price may go up, it may go down.

Investing where you can invest your money is absorbing and challenging. If you are really interested, you'll want to talk to annuity salesmen, life insurance salesmen, stock brokers and real estate agents. There is no end to the reading you can do on the subject of investing.

Whether you choose to do it or not is up to you. Whatever you decide to do, J. D., investigate before you invest a cent!

Dear Arthur: My friends say I have cancer. They say they have seen friends of theirs with the same symptoms.

I'm in my late 50s. If I have cancer, why doesn't my doctor tell me? I can stand the shock. I just want to be told. Agnes

Dear Agnes: When your friends start sending you bills for their "professional" advice, I would pay attention to their diagnosis. Until then, listen to your doctor, believe him, and don't worry.

"Papal Bulls"

Letters from the Pope to Roman Catholic churches are referred to as "Papal bulls." The name "bull" comes from the seal used on the letter, called a "bull." This is a round piece of lead, on one side of which are impressed the heads of Saint Peter and Saint Paul and, on the other side, the name of the reigning Pope.

TULSA (Okla.) Tribune: Losing Race.—Life is a man running up a "Down Only" escalator. At least we have known it to seem that way on gray mornings.

Unexpected confirmation came from the State Commission on Governmental Operations of the City of New York. "Motor trucks driven in New York City today average less than six miles an hour in traffic," the report says. "Horse-drawn trucks in 1910 averaged 11 miles an hour." Fortune magazine wryly quotes that as the Productivity Note of the Month.

There are days when we can hardly wait for the whole darn thing to grind to a halt, so we can go fishing.

Businessmen Are Opposed To Practices

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Most American businessmen affirm that some generally accepted practices in their industries are unethical.

They, personally, don't like it. Most of them would appreciate more guidance from church leaders who understand business.

These conclusions came today from a broad national survey conducted by the Rev. Raymond C. Baumhart, a Roman Catholic priest studying at Harvard University Business School. In it, 1,700 business executives answered questionnaires.

"Executives blame competitive pressure for widespread unethical behavior," he reports. He adds they would like to find remedies for the situation.

The 10,000-word study, one of the most detailed made of the modern businessman's individual attitudes, ideals, and conduct, and also of the moral climate in which he works, is being published in the current Harvard Business Review.

Personally, most executives "profess a lofty level of ethical aspirations for themselves," the survey found, but they "are cynical about the ethics of other executives" and concede malpractices in their own industries.

Four out of five executives admit and point out the presence of numerous generally accepted practices in their industry which they consider unethical, the report said. Among them, in order of those most frequently cited:

1. Gifts, gratuities, bribes and use of "call girls" to win favors or customers; 2. discriminatory and unfair pricing; 3. dishonest advertising; 4. unfair competitive practices, such as price-rigging between supplier and contractor, or exchange of contract-bidding information.

Individually, most executives disapprove of such practices, it was found. For example, 88 per cent regard providing "call girls" as always unethical; 86 per cent regard "padding expense accounts" as always unethical. Ninety-four per cent reject profit-making as the sole guide to business operations.

Most feel that when an executive "acts ethically," it is due mostly to his own character and "ability to resist pressure and temptation," but if he "acts unethically," it is largely because of his superiors and the climate of industry ethics.

The survey found most executives feel organized religion has been "lax in providing guidance" for business conduct. While some businessmen want no advice from the church in running their affairs, most would welcome competent counsel.

Ninety per cent of the executives voiced support for setting up industry-wide codes of ethics practices; 71 per cent believe such a code would improve standards; but 87 per cent believe it would be hard to enforce.

Robards, Bacall Wedding Plans Thwarted Again

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Jason Robards Jr., thwarted on two continents in attempts to marry Lauren Bacall, says they plan to wed soon and will "let everyone know."

Robards, 39, and Miss Bacall, 37, widow of actor Humphrey Bogart, were refused a marriage license Saturday in Las Vegas, Nev. The marriage bureau there said the reason was related to the Mexican divorce Mrs. Robards obtained in Juarez, Mex., May 22.

Nevada respects some Mexican divorces but not all.

Several European cities, including Vienna, would not give a license to the two movie players last month.

$335,000 In Aid To Victims Of Angola Uprising

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The American Embassy said Tuesday the U.S. government has given $335,000 worth of aid to victims of the rebellion in Portugal's West African territory of Angola.

The statement followed a Portuguese denial in Luanda, Angola, that the U.S. government had given such aid.

The charity organization Caritas in Luanda said the U.S. government "had given nothing and had nothing to do with the gift. It came from the American Caritas," the organization said.

The embassy said the U.S. government had supplied the aid sent to Angola and that Caritas had merely handled distribution.

test for basic diving skills and control and is given by me in my capacity as water sports director for AMF-Voit Rubber Corp.

Standing at the deep end of the pool with all Scuba equipment in place, make a front entrance into the water. Swim to the bottom and go to a sitting position. Jetison the tank by pulling the quick release on the left shoulder and waist strap.

Reach back with both hands and grasp the tank. Swing the tank over the head, put it between the legs and hold it in position with the knees. Remove the mask and lay it beside the tank.

Get a good breath of air, remove the mouthpiece, tuck it under the regulator, and make an ascent. Exhale continuously to prevent air embolism. Ascend no faster than the slowest rising bubbles, or 20 feet per minute. This is known as free ascent, a valuable safety technique that should never be practiced at depths greater than 10 feet.

After surfacing, get a good breath of air and make a surface dive to the bottom of the pool. With one hand, grasp the tank to hold you down. With the other hand, remove the mouthpiece from under the regulator.

haing to completely clear the hose, and begin breathing from Scuba. Now, in reverse order, put the equipment back on and come to the surface.

If you have mastered these lessons, you should now be ready for open water diving, but always with a companion.

The chip shot from the edge of the green is a close relative of the putt.

The clubhead should follow a straight line from the top of the backswing through the ball to the finish of the follow through. If the ball is lying on a straight line pointing directly toward the hole, the club should stay directly above the line during all phases of the chip from the apron.

For this shot, employ an open stance, the left foot at about a 45-degree angle to the pin. This makes the straight line movement of the club easier. The open stance throughout the shot makes it

ANGLING AROUND

A fisherman cast his lure toward the base of a leaning willow tree.

BASS SELDOM move far.

"There's a lunker bass over there," he noted.

He plunged the surface bait a couple of times. The water swirled, but the fish didn't get the hooks. The angler reeled in and moved along the shore.

"Not ready yet," he said. "Let's make a couple of casts by that big rock. There's a six-pounder lying 10 feet to the left and 20 feet out."

He changed to a deep-running, underwater lure and cast to the location noted. After 10 minutes of hard-fought action, the six-pounder was flopping on the floor boards of the skiff.

The fisherman was half of a skin-diving team.

One angler cruises the bottom. Whenever he spots a big bass, he comes up to the surface and indicates the location.

Since bass will seldom move very far from home, the fishermen are pretty sure right where each big one is located.

When they come back with their casting tackle, they know where ol' bucket-jaws is.

Shah Relates Need
For Trained Experts

TEHRAN (AP) — The Shah of Iran Tuesday told 207 Iranian students studying in the United States and now on a home visit that Iran needs trained experts to implement development projects.

He urged the students to return home after graduation to take over technical jobs from foreign experts now engaged on development works in Iran. In recent years, many Iranian students have stayed on in the United States after graduation.

A Pilot Grove
Sailor Aboard
Assault Ship

The amphibious assault ship USS Boxer served as flagship for Amphibious Squadron 10 during amphibious exercises, known as PHIBULEX 2-61, June 21, conducted in Caribbean waters off the coast of Puerto Rico.

Serving aboard the ship is Charles R. Green, disbursing clerk third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Green, Pilot Grove.

Helicopters from the Boxer landed troops behind the beachhead, while landing craft loaded with Marines and supplies from the other squadron ships approached Vieques Island from the sea. This "dual attack" is the principle of vertical envelopment, the newest concept of amphibious warfare.

The squadron's participation supplemented the landing of the Eighth Marine Expeditionary Unit on the island by helicopters and amphibious landing craft.

First Holiday Auto
Death in Six Years

LEWES, Del. (AP)—Thomas E. Fowler, 25, of Baltimore, died Tuesday night shortly after being struck by an auto near Rehoboth Beach. It was the first July 4th traffic fatality in the state of Delaware since 1955.

Over the Memorial Day weekend, no fatal accidents of any type were reported in Delaware. The last holiday weekend accidental death reported in Delaware was during last Christmas. It, too, was a traffic fatality.

Pretty New Stenographer Can Stir Office Doldrums

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing stirs the average office out of its usual summer doldrums more than the hiring of a new stenographer.

This is particularly so if the girl is pretty, and engineered like an adolescent's dream. Her arrival creates more excitement than anything since management surrendered unconditionally to the coffee break.

For a time she is more popular than the water cooler.

The career wolves and the seasonal bachelors converge on her desk from all corners. Everybody suddenly needs to borrow a pencil, some paper clips, an extra typewriter ribbon—any excuse to get acquainted.

The fact the new girl can type only 25 words a minute under full steam worries nobody but the boss.

Here is the impact she has on some of the office characters:

The office boy—He comes in 15 minutes early so he can slip unnoticed on her desk a rose he has stolen from a neighbor's bush and wrapped in a poem he spent half the night writing. (The quality of his verse is so poor the new girl suspects the boss himself wrote it.)

The hypochondriac—His idea of courtship is to lend her some of his medicines. "Try this new miracle pill," he urges. "It came out only last week, and it made me feel wonderful."

The junior executive—He hasn't dictated a letter in months, but now he suddenly develops a heavy correspondence. He even writes letters to strangers in the phone book, just so he can spend more time with the new girl.

The fatherly bookkeeper — "A young girl like you has to be pretty careful these days," he murmurs, clutching her hands in his. "You can't believe a word some of these jokers tell you, but you can trust me."

The boss's spinster secretary—"Everybody talks about how young she is," she tells her cronies spitefully. "But she isn't all that young."

But the romantic ardor that swept the office dies down as abruptly as it arose. For after three months the new girl announces she is leaving to marry the boy back home. Everyone has to dig down to buy her some farewell gifts—which include a bottle of tranquilizers from the hypochondriac. His last words: "Honeymoons can be so tense." All then wait expectantly to see what the next new girl will look like. She turns out to have a shape like the Pentagon, a face like a tornado and hair like Harpo Marx. But she can type 75 words a minute blindfolded—which, after all, is how she looks best.

NEW TOUCH TO ANTIQUITY—Modern moviemaking techniques against the background of ancient Florence, Italy, is a study in contrasts. Here, an MGM camera and sound crew is filming Rossano Brazzi and Olivia de Havilland in a scene for the new picture, "A Light in the Piazza."

"Now," growls the boss, "maybe we'll get some work done around this place!" Maybe. Maybe.
